

Golden Gate Lodge

3-Star Plus Accommodation at the gateway to Central Otago and Southern Lakes District

Natural timber cladding and schist rock detailing contribute to creating a warm welcome for guests arriving at the Golden Gate Lodge.

Accommodation is in three two-story wings, each sited to make the most of the Central Otago location and near desert climate.

DUNSTAN WING

Ground or first floor, each of the 16 studio suites in the Dunstan Wing affords uninterrupted views of an iconic Central Otago landscape. In the foreground Wooing Tree Vineyard, towering to the right and left, the Dunstan Range and Pisa Ranges, and in the distance the massive bulk of the St Bathans Range. North-facing Dunstan Wing basks in all day sun. Of course, this is Central Otago so summer humidity is refreshingly low and breezes keep temperatures to comfortable levels.

In common with all accommodation at the Golden Gate, Dunstan Wing studio suites have wide opening glass paneled French doors to create an indoor-outdoor flow onto a private balcony. A bonus for ground floor guests is parking directly outside each suite.

DUNES WING

Overlooking the front nine holes of the 18-hole Cromwell Golf Course, the Dunes Wing is a favourite for guests who enjoy golf, whether as players or armchair critics. After all, where else in New Zealand will you find such an affordable hotel as the Golden Gate Lodge with a golf course as its closest neighbour! A $700,000 fairways and greens redevelopment under the watchful eye of course designer and former New Zealand professional, Greg Turner, Cromwell Golf Course Golf Course has further enhanced its reputation as one of the country's best country courses. It's hard to believe that although New Zealand's furthest town from the coast, Cromwell soil is extremely sandy with small dunes a feature of the area prior to development of the township; hence Dunes Wing. Enjoying an easterly aspect, the Dunes Wing is the first to feel the sun as it rises over the tawny, schist strewn flanks of the Dunstan Range.

COURTYARD WING

The Golden Gate Lodge is accommodation where no guest is cheated of views or outlook. The Courtyard Wing not only delivers the Central Otago landscape but also the close-up outlook of our large, sheltered courtyard with carefully tended gardens and groomed lawns, and an extensive patio area complete with outdoor tables and chairs. Because of its close proximity to our conference centre/wedding venue, the Courtyard Wing is popular with conference delegates and wedding guests.

A feature of the Courtyard Wing's 8 ground floor units is a large semi-private, semi-enclosed patio.
